Hey, my name is Lorna and I'm a UX/UI Designer with over 7 years experience in web, digital and graphic design, more recently developing UX/UI skills to deliver well considered and beautiful solutions that are accessible to all. I am currently working freelance whilst seeking my next full-time challenge.

I am a highly motivated and curious individual with a keen eye for detail and a genuine passion for learning. When I'm not designing, you'll most likely find me on a hiking trail, exploring the great outdoors.

EXPERIENCE

"Fresh, exciting, intelligent and beautiful are all words that spring to mind when describing Lorna's work, and she continually strives to be better and push further. Lorna and I have worked together for about 3 years, often collaborating on projects and pitches and she is a joy to work with. Working with her has improved my design capabilities - helping me to think differently and tap into a different side of my creative brain..."
